

CS 4320: Machine Learning

Assignment: Final Project Continue

In the final project series of assignments, you will extend your machine learning understanding and experience, by designing, completing, and presenting your own project.

Next Submission

In this submission, you will submit a document describing the progress of your project. Document any preliminary results obtained. The project should be roughly 50% completed by now.

Submit a PDF of your document to the canvas assignment.

Commit and push your code base, and data if of reasonable size.
