

WEek 12 practice

For this weeks' practice, you will learn more about using variables and registering variables.

Use the following vars file.

Your playbook should:

- create the user identified in the vars file
- change the hostname to that provided in the vars file
- create all the directories and files specified in the vars file
- Create new variables which record the count of how many files are in each directory.
- Display a count of files in directories specified in the vars file using the debug statement.

If you get stuck a solution is here
